

Julen Iturregui

WEB APPLICATION DEVELOPMENT (DAW) STUDENT

WHO AM I?

I'm Julen Iturregui García, a Web Application Development student with a prior education that gave me knowledge of plans, structures, installations and construction budgets. This has given me analytical thinking, technical rigor and a solid foundation in technology, systems and project planning, which I now apply to web development. I also have experience working with people: coordinating groups, managing logistics and solving unforeseen problems under pressure. I am resourceful, organized, a clear communicator and able to adapt easily to changing environments. I am looking to join a team where I can learn, contribute and grow professionally in web development.
